

What does education reform look like?

---

“Teachers and Parents for Real Education Reform” and the Washington Teachers’ Union (WTU) invite you to find out!

Around the nation reforms aimed at dramatically improving the quality of teaching and learning are underway. Reform is being done in collaboration with local teacher unions to build the profession of teaching.

- What can DC learn from these reform efforts?
- How might DC improve teacher quality and the conditions for teaching?

Join the newly elected president of the AFT, the innovative Superintendent from neighboring Prince Georges’ County, and a teacher leader from neighboring Montgomery County to learn more!

GUEST SPEAKERS

Ms. Randi Weingarten is president of the American Federation of Teachers, the UFT in New York City, and is a recognized national education reform leader.

Dr. John Deasy is Superintendent of Prince Georges’ County Public Schools and the architect of their intensive effort to focus the workforce on good teaching practice.

Ms. Jennifer Whitman is Lead Consulting Teacher in the Montgomery County Public Schools’ Peer Assistance and Review Program, with a teacher’s view of reform.

Wednesday, November 5th

6:30-8:00 PM

Nineteenth Street Baptist Church

4606 16th Street, NW
(16th & Crittenden, NW)

Limited parking in church lot. On-street parking after 6:30. Accessible by S1, S2 and S4 buses on 16th Street.

---

“Teachers and Parents for Real Education Reform” Initiative

<http://realeducationreformdc.blogspot.com/>